Gentlemen:

Attached is a photostat of the March 27th letter, that was received in response to my inquiry of March 6th.

I have no record of receiving an supplementary report as promised in the second paragraph of Colonel Fitzpatrick's letter. Realizing that some time would be required for the gathering of additional details that may be available, the lapse of three months prompts me to inquire if it has been possible to obtain any further information about my fiances.

May I hear from you as to what has been done?

Sincerely yours,

Dear Miss Richter:

This is in reply to your letter of March 6th, concerning the late Technical Sergeant Joseph M. Herbert.

The distress you and Mrs. Herbert have experienced in the absence of news of Sergeant Herbert is most understandable and I sincerely wish there were some heartening information that I could convey to you at the present time which would lessen your sorrow.

No Missing Air Crew Report has been received concerning the circumstances under which Sergeant Herbert was first reported missing in action and, consequently, your request for additional information on February 16, 1943, and the names and addresses of their next of kin is not available in this headquarters. However, we are requesting from the European Area such details as may be available. The gathering of this information and transmission back here will require some time, but upon receipt of the report, I shall communicate with Mrs. Herbert promptly.

Very sincerely,

Dear Sir:

I am writing this letter for Mrs. Rose E. Herbert who recently received a communication from the War Department that her son T/Sgt. Joseph M. Herbert, missing in action over the European area since February 16, 1943, is now considered dead.

Recently I read a letter which you had written to a mother regarding the facts of her son's disappearance. I wonder if there is anything further you can add to the information we now have. Joe was last seen over the English Channel, north west of Brehat, France. Isn't it possible to furnish us with any more definite information?

I also remember from your letter written to the above mentioned mother, that you were enclosing the names and addresses of the parents of the boys who were on the same plane as her son. Could you furnish me with the names and addresses of the parents of the boys who were on Joe's plane? I do know that one boy, usually on the same crew was not flying that day, and if possible I would appreciate having his address too.

We haven't given up hope for Joe's safety, as there may have been a possibility that he was able to reach the French coast and is unable to get in touch with us.

Thank you for your patience in looking over this case.

Very truly yours,
